Time Travel Films Database:

There is a lack of online films databases centred on time-travel films. That is why I developed this full-stack web application, using MERN stack (MongoDB, Express, React, Node). People interested in time travel films can now use my website to keep track of favourite films, give them a personal score & share that information with other users.

Chat App project:

Online communication between customers, colleagues and friends is crucial for practically every industry. This project involved designing a React Native mobile application for chat communication. This app allows people to chat, share pictures and locations in a bespoke way.

Web Developer

Freelance

January 2015 - Present

Revista VA! website:

Development and maintenance of the magazine website. My work helped the magazine to gain crowdfunding pledges whilst keeping customers engaged with upcoming content and showcasing the online version of the magazine.

Photographer

Freelance

2010 - Present

As a freelance professional I have to manage my time, clients and finances which has given me an understanding of business management. In order to maintain an income I have to ensure that I produce photographs to the highest standards and make sure that any photographs displayed on websites were of the highest quality.
